

The Traveler Series

- Five, one day events spread across eastern New England running from May to September or October in 2023
- There would be one regatta per month.
- Each regatta is a one day event, Saturday the primary with Sunday as the rain date.
- Each regatta would have a first warning at 11 am with no race starts after 3 pm.
- The entire series would count as a single regional scoring event towards national points ranking and would require a minimum of ten(10) boats per event to qualify.
- The events are open to all registered DF95 skippers
- A skipper can use 4 of the five (or six) events toward national points
- Structure the series to provide a wide range of sailing experiences: fresh & salt water, heavy and light wind venues, rural and urban settings
